AUSTRALIA’S BIGGEST ATTRACTION IS ITS NATURAL BEAUTY. The landscape varies from endless blue sky horizons to dense tropical rainforest to miles of deserted beaches. Scattered along the coasts, the major cities of Sydney, Melbourne, Brisbane and Perth blend a European enthusiasm for art, theatre and food with a laid-back love of sports and the outdoors.

The sixth largest country in the world, with the largest coral reef – the Great Barrier Reef, the largest monolith – Ayers Rock, and a plethora of unique plants and animals, it is the sheer vastness that gives Australia and its diverse population much of its character.
LEGEND “The Southern Cross” — In the very beginning Baiame, the Sky King, came down from the sky to the land and created rivers, mountains, and forests. Out of the red ground and dust from the hot air he made two men and a woman. For some time the three people lived happily together, but after a while there came a long and severe drought. Being overwhelmed with hunger the woman and one of the men killed a small kangaroo to eat. The other man protested, “This is not what Baiame taught us” and ran away from the couple. Faint with hunger, he collapsed at the foot of a white gum tree, dying. Suddenly, a dark spirit with fiery eyes picked up his body and placed it into the trunk of a hollow tree. The tree then rose into the air followed by cockatoos, and as darkness fell, nothing could be seen but the white specks that were the cockatoos, and the four fiery eyes which glared out of the hollow trunk. The eyes in the white gum tree became the stars of the constellation of the Southern Cross, while the white cockatoos, which followed them, are the Pointers.

BOOMERANG A curved, flying weapon used for hunting or combat. The oldest Australian Aboriginal boomerangs are ten thousand years old. Today boomerangs are still used for sport.

LONGEST ROAD, RAIL AND FENCE The world’s longest piece of straight railway track stretches 297 miles across South Australia’s vast, treeless Nullarbor Plain. Australia’s longest stretch of straight road – 92 miles – is on the Eyre Highway in Western Australia. It’s just a tiny portion of the 1,678 mile sealed road that takes travelers from Perth to Adelaide. The world’s longest continuous fence – the dingo fence – was built to keep sheep safe from Australia’s native dog and runs far 3,437 miles through central Queensland and South Australia.
Cruise Sydney Harbor aboard Sydney’s most prestigious cruise ship, MV Sydney 2000. Experience contemporary Australian a la carte dining, music and dancing. Star gaze from the 360-degree Star Deck as the millions of Sydney city lights twinkle in the background. Includes three-course dinner, tea and coffee.

Enjoy a pre-theater dinner at one of Sydney’s finest restaurants overlooking Sydney Harbor prior to experiencing a world-class performance of your choice. Evening commences with the Essential tour and includes three-course dinner at Aria (overlooking the Opera House) or Guillaume at Bennelong (inside the Opera House), guided tour, performance, and interval drink.

En route to Phillip Island, visit a boutique winery overlooking Westernport Bay and walk among the treetops at the Koala Conservation Center. On the island, penguins come ashore each evening at dusk. A large penguin colony swims up to the beach in groups and they work their way into the dunes where their burrow nests are situated.

Bridgeclimb is a 3 1/2-hour adventure on the Sydney Harbor Bridge, taking you along catwalks, up ladders and steadily over the top of the arch to the summit, 439 feet above Sydney Harbor. The exhilaration and personal satisfaction achieved by reaching the top of the Sydney Harbor Bridge is enhanced by the breathtaking view that lies before you. Book a climb to suit your vacation schedule: dawn; day; twilight and night. Includes group photograph and commemorative climber’s certificate.

Australia produces 95 percent of the world’s precious opals and 99 percent of its black opals. The world’s opal capital is the quirky underground town of Coober Pedy in South Australia.

The development of penicillin for use as a medicine is attributed to the Australian Nobel laureate Howard Walter Florey. Penicillin antibiotics are historically significant because they are the first drugs that were effective against many previously serious diseases such as syphilis and Staphylococcus infections.

LAND Australia is the sixth largest country in the world. It’s about the same size as the 48 mainland states of the USA and 50 percent larger than Europe, but has the lowest population density in the world. Australia is the only nation to govern an entire continent and its outlying islands. The mainland is the largest island and the world’s smallest, flattest continent.

BILLABONG Throughout the Australian outback, a billabong is a small lake, specifically an oxbow lake - a section of still water adjacent to a river, cut off by a change in the watercourse. Billabongs are usually formed when the path of a creek or river changes, leaving the former branch with a dead end.
